

Code: BMI-FLMD-242E.03

---

Course title: Academic Writing for Students in Filmmaking Specialisation

---

Course convenors: Györgyi Vajdovich

---

Class time and place: Thursday 12:30-14:00 -137

---

Course type: Seminar

---

Course content: This seminar is designed specifically for first-year Master's students in filmmaking specialization and will facilitate students' preparation of the theoretical/historical essay built on individual research and analysis which makes part of their thesis. The module explores the methods used in film (and media) studies research including quantitative, qualitative, interpretive and rhetorical methods; formulating research questions, planning and designing the research, data collection, data analysis and interpretation. Allowing every student to follow their own particular interest the training will cover the various aspects of conceiving, pursuing, organizing, and successfully completing research projects in film studies. During the course students will elaborate different parts and chapters of their essay, and these tasks will be discussed during the classes allowing each student to assess and evaluate his/her own and other student's writings.

---

Requirements: 1. Presentations: During the semester each participant has to hold in-class presentations related to his/her research project.
2. Weekly tasks: Students will have to complete different weekly tasks related to their research project. The documents should be uploaded in Canvas until the selected deadlines.
3. Class participation: Continuous attendance and in-class activity is required. Four or more absences result in an incomplete for the course. No student will receive a final grade without the in-class presentations and more than two missing weekly tasks (the writing of a chapter of analysis is a prerequisite of grading).
Students are expected to complete the theoretical/historical essay making part of their thesis by the end of the semester.
Plagiarism: using any type of un-acknowledged material from another author/source and displaying it as yours results in the automatic failure of the course! <http://film.elte.hu/segedanyagok/plagium-plagiarism/>

Grading (Canvas percentage converted into grades:

5: 100-88,5%

4: 88,4-76%

3: 75,9-63%

2: 62,9-50%

1: under 50%

---

Indicative Reading: Babbie, Earl (2013): The Basics of Social Research. Cengage Learning.
Booth, Wayne C.–Gregory G. Colomb–Joseph M. William (2003): The Craft of Research. Chicago: University of Chicago.
Dunleavy, Patrick (2003): Authoring a PhD: How to plan, draft, write and finish a doctoral thesis or dissertation. Palgrave Macmillan.
Messenger Davies, Maire–Mosdell, Nick (2006): Practical Research Methods for Media and Cultural Studies. Edinburgh University Press.
Rose, Gillian (2001): Visual Methodologies: An Introduction to the Interpretation of visual materials. London; Sage.
Stokes, Jane (2012): How to Do Media and Cultural Studies. Sage.